Storytelling using the EMPOWER mnemonic
Agenda

1. Welcome
2. Some Stories
3. What is STORY?
4. Benefits to STORY
5. Creation of STORY
6. EMPOWER
7. Storytelling Activity
8. Questions/Reflection
Let the stories begin...
HISTORY OF STORYTELLING TECHNOLOGY

What is STORY?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>S</th>
<th>S is for the Setting; it tells us when and where</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>T</td>
<td>T is for Talking Characters; the whom which we compare</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>O</td>
<td>O is for the “Oops a problem!” The conflict which evolves</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>R</td>
<td>R is resolution; the steps for us to solve</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Y</td>
<td>Y is for the “Yes, whohoo!” The solution has been found</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Observe the sequence in the plot and the elements all around...
Creation of STORY

What is the purpose of your story?
Beginning, middle, and an end
Concise
Be animated
Define the complication
Talk in third person
EMPOWER

Engage Meaningful
Prepare
Organize
Writing Expectations
Relevant
Engage

> Engage with students using multiple teaching techniques such as the ABC approach and technology tools to support learning.
Meaningful

> Meaningful connections with students and a positive presence creates an inclusive classroom community.

Motivation Monday:
“Challenges are what make life interesting and overcoming them is what makes life meaningful!”
~Joshua J. Marine
Prepare

> Prepare for the course by identifying specific stories aligned with the course topics and objectives.
Organize

> Organize classroom management techniques including weekly announcements with helpful hints, tips for success through stories.
Writing

> Writing communication reflects a respectful, professional, motivation and learner centered tone while encouraging engagement.
Expectations

> Expectations are established at the start of the course and each week focusing on opportunities to feel connected.
Relevant resources, experiences, and examples are shared throughout the class activities including discussions, feedback, and announcements (Ted Talk Tuesday).
Create Your Own STORY

In no more than 2 mins, create your own story using the EMPOWER mnemonic. This story should be created within the 3rd person. Be ready to share!
Thanks!

Any questions?
References
