HUMOR IS ESSENTIAL
By Fall of 2020, 97% of our full-time faculty were officially certified to teach fully online courses at Shepherd University.

“This training is specific for a Shepherd audience, for the kinds of students we have--including many first generation to go to college students and older students returning to college. Everything we did in the course, I can use in the fall in some way, whether we are online, hybrid or in person. The course design is so thoughtful.”

“I took the online certification course offered here at shepherd and it was exceptional. The best part is that the instructors are still here and will provide help and answer questions when needed.”

“Information and resources from the CTL. Laura’s online certification was helpful, efficient, and great!”

“I am now confident in teaching online courses. Based on the training, I have designed my online courses and I am very confident to start the fall semester. One of my main goals is to meet the needs of our students. I ask that the Center for Teaching and Learning keep up the good work in offering different workshops to prepare faculty members for online teaching.

“The Online Certification program at Shepherd University was a huge help for everyone who enrolled, not only in providing educational and technological assistance, but also in bringing the latest “best practices” for online education forward.”
THANK YOU!
