Guide to Grad School

Guide to Grad School is AAP’s online graduate school preparation lessons. AAP has created this resource to serve as an online guide to help prepare undergraduate students for graduate school.

The lessons are designed to guide you through various phases of the process from exploring career options to transitioning into graduate school once you are accepted. Each lesson is filled with useful information and suggested exercises. To register for the course, please login with your NID and password. There are more instructions once you enter the course.

If you have any questions about Guide to Grad School, please email aap@ucf.edu.

Diverse Perspectives

“Culturally responsive teaching is defined as using the cultural characteristics, experiences, and perspectives of... diverse students as conduits for teaching them more effectively” (Gay, 2002).
Developing an Inclusive Online Learning Environment for Non-Academic Content

Resources Available Asynchronously

“…flexibility, time convenience, and self-confidence positively influenced the academic performance of minority students.” (Yeboah & Smith, 2016)

Curriculum Design

Incorporate assignments like active learning experiences and peer-to-peer support (Dreamson et al., 2017)
